

Modern Languages Association 8th Edition (MLA)

Requires:

1. In-text citation
2. Works Cited Page at end of paper, authors in alphabetical order
3. If you cite an author more than once, put the year after their last name. For example:
(Dobson, 2003)

Book:

Dobson, Andrew. Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford University Press, 2003.

In-text citation (this is within the body of your paper): Globalization is not symmetrical, but asymmetrical. (Dobson)

Newspaper article:

Bae, Joonbum, and Andrew Natsios. "Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea." Foreign Affairs, Jan. 2018. <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>.

In-text citation: This is how we should respond to North Korea to avoid a "post-collapse crisis." (Bae and Natsios)

Scholarly Journal Article:

Pitts, Andrea J. "White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare." Radical Philosophy Review, vol. 18, no. 2, 2014, pp. 267–85.

In-text citation: Correctional healthcare is an unviable system because providers automatically think those incarcerated are "malingering" even if they are really sick. (Pitts)

Works Cited

Bae, Joonbum, and Andrew Natsios. "Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea."

Foreign Affairs, Jan. 2018. <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>.

Dobson, Andrew. Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford University Press, 2003.

Pitts, Andrea J. "White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical

Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare." Radical Philosophy Review, vol. 18, no. 2, 2014, pp. 267–85.

American Psychological Association 6th Edition (APA)

Requires:

4. In-text citation
5. References Page at end of paper, authors in alphabetical order

Book:

Dobson, A. (2003). Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

In-text citation (this is within the body of your paper): Globalization is not symmetrical, but asymmetrical. (Dobson, 2003)

Newspaper article:

Bae, J., & Natsios, A. (2018, January 25). Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea. Foreign Affairs. Retrieved from <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>

In-text citation: This is how we should respond to North Korea to avoid a “post-collapse crisis.” (Bae & Natsios, 2018)

Scholarly Journal Article:

Pitts, A. J. (2014). White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare. Radical Philosophy Review, 18(2), 267–285.

In-text citation: Correctional healthcare is an unviable system because providers automatically think those incarcerated are “malingering” even if they are really sick. (Pitts, 2014)

References

Bae, J., & Natsios, A. (2018, January 25). Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea.

Foreign Affairs. Retrieved from <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>

Dobson, A. (2003). Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford: Oxford University Press

Pitts, A. J. (2014). White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical

Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare. Radical Philosophy Review, 18(2), 267–285.

Chicago Manual of Style 17th Edition

Requires:

1. In-text footnotes
2. Bibliography Page at end of paper, authors in alphabetical order

Book:

Dobson, Andrew. 2003. Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

In-text citation (this is within the body of your paper): Globalization is not symmetrical, but asymmetrical.¹

Newspaper article:

Bae, Joonbum, and Andrew Natsios. 2018. "Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea." Foreign Affairs, January 25, 2018. <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>.

In-text citation: This is how we should respond to North Korea to avoid a "post-collapse crisis."²

Scholarly Journal Article:

Pitts, Andrea J. 2014. "White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare." Radical Philosophy Review 18 (2): 267–85.

In-text citation: Correctional healthcare is an unviable system because providers automatically think those incarcerated are "malingering" even if they are really sick.³

¹ Times New Roman, 10pt font.: Dobson, Andrew. 2003. Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

² Bae, Joonbum, and Andrew Natsios. 2018. "Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea." Foreign Affairs, January 25, 2018. <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>.

³ Pitts, Andrea J. 2014. "White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare." Radical Philosophy Review 18 (2): 267–85.

Bibliography

Bae, Joonbum, and Andrew Natsios. 2018. "Preventing a Post-Collapse Crisis in North Korea."

Foreign Affairs, January 25, 2018. <https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/north-korea/2018-01-25/preventing-post-collapse-crisis-north-korea>.

Dobson, Andrew. 2003. Citizenship and the Environment. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Pitts, Andrea J. 2014. "White Supremacy, Mass Incarceration, and Clinical Medicine: A Critical

Analysis of U.S. Correctional Healthcare." Radical Philosophy Review 18 (2): 267–85.